Who Are We?

The Horn of Africa Family Well-Being Project is a service that provides support to families from the Horn of Africa region (e.g. Somalia, Sudan, Ethiopia, Eritrea), who are living in and newly arrived to Birmingham.

Our service may be beneficial to you if:

- you are newly arrived in the UK
- you are finding it difficult to access services due to a language barrier
- you feel isolated or lonely
- you want help and advice with good parenting

We have staff who speak Arabic and Somali, and we will be able to provide you with support in these languages.

The Family Support Workers can visit you in your home, or you can come to our centre to receive help.

How Can We Help?

We can help you in the following ways:

- by making sure you are getting the benefits that you are entitled to
- by providing support and guidance with housing issues
- by providing support and guidance with children's education
- by giving you advice and support with parenting and managing children's behaviour
- by giving you advice on how to manage your money
- by providing you and your children the opportunity to take part in various groups, activities and outings that are run by the centre
- by giving you information about other services that may be beneficial to you
